Message from the President

At our next meeting on Tuesday, January 17th, we will induct our 2017 officers including Nelson Wilson - President & Joe Lunsford - Secretary. We do not have a nominee for Vice-President as of this date. The former officers will remain the same which are as follows: Brenda Hockaday - Treasurer, John Ronchetti - Cruise-In Treasurer/Newsletter Editor, Ruth Ann Ronchetti - Activities Director/Newsletter Co-Editor, Jim Taylor - Chaplain and Duke Marley - Alternate Chaplain. Thanks to Roger Hockaday for serving two years as President and three years as Ex-Officio. These have all represented you respectfully.

Thank you sincerely for all of your support during the past three years. Believe me, I have watched you volunteer at our Cruise-Ins, Spring Folly's, Purple Heart Foundation Fundraisers and various other community functions. It has been a privilege serving as your President and will continue to be a privilege serving as Ex-Officio and a fellow Chapter Member. Thanks to all of you, we have established ourselves as a supporter of the Kernersville Community. This is where we want to be.

I strongly believe that Nelson and Joe both will respectfully serve our Chapter. I look forward to supporting them as they have supported me.

Thank you again,

Ron Day

A Message from Incoming President Nelson Wilson

Greetings! I want to thank the many Old Salem Chapter members who have offered their well wishes for success in my upcoming role as President of our club. I have greatly enjoyed being a member of OSC and was honored to be asked to serve as its President. I know I have some big shoes to fill as I take over the reins from Ron Day. If I do half as good a job as Ron has done during his three terms as President, the OSC will continue to thrive. Fortunately for me, Ron has assured me that he will still be available for consultation if I get into any situations requiring his knowledge and experience. I want to thank Ron and all of the other members of our OSC Board for their hard work in the past. Since many of our past Board members have volunteered to serve again, I look forward to working with them and having the benefit of their experience in the coming year. I will see you at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

Nelson Wilson

OSC Potluck / Movie Night ... Come One, Come All!

On Saturday, January 28th, our OSC will have our first gathering of the year ... our "season opener." It will be a Potluck / Movie Night showing "Horatio's Drive," thanks to Brenda & Roger Hockaday. This film recounts the saga of Horatio Nelson Jackson, a doctor from Vermont who in 1903 became the first person to drive an automobile across the continent. Dr. Jackson kept a diary of his journey so there was plenty of material for the film. It is funny and informative. The voice of Dr. Jackson is Tom Hanks.

Clarence Lambe has been gracious to give us the use of his garage for our movie night again, 149 S. Main St., Kernersville (behind the formerly Harmon-Lambe Event Center) next to Fidelity Bank. Sooo ... starting at 5:00 pm, bring your Potluck to share and be ready for an evening of fun!

(For our new members or anyone that has never been to Clarence's garage, never fear, it is warm and comfortable with upholstered chairs to sit on ... and ... the Potluck food is GREAT!)

PLEASE RSVP RUTH ANN AT ra_ronchetti@usa.net ... OR ... (336) 817-6553 ASAP!

Winter Adventure: A Lasting Memory

Day of truck sledding launches a lifelong empathy with flying squirrels.

By Al Batt, Hartland, Minnesota, Illustration by Kevin Rechin

We feed the birds, and because we feed the birds, we inevitably feed the squirrels. That really bugs some folks, and a friend recently sent me a video of a squirrel-proof feeder in action. A squirrel climbs up for a hearty lunch, but instead of breakfast it gets flung through the air with the greatest unease. Watching it took me back to an equally uneasy boyhood adventure.

I grew up on a farm that was part marsh, part woods and part prairie—all of it flat. Despite a lack of decent sledding hills, I owned a snow saucer. It was one of those round metal jobs that's impossible to steer.

One winter, inspired after watching the Olympic bobsledders on TV, my friends and I hatched a plan. We'd tie the saucer to the bumper of an old pickup truck and pull it down the snow-packed gravel road. It'd be exactly like the Olympics, but better

We used a long rope to give the rider time to veer if the truck made a sudden stop. I got excited as we worked out the details. If only we could find someone dumb enough to volunteer. When I mentioned this aloud, everyone stared at me. I didn't recall getting "chump" tattooed on my forehead, but before I knew it, I was sitting in that saucer like Forrest Gump.

The pickup started slowly, but soon the saucer was bouncing along like a crazed kangaroo. Hanging on to the saucer probably would've been a challenge for most folks, but I regularly rode a horse that hated me. Compared to that, this was almost fun.

When the pickup slowed for the first turn, I managed to navigate it with little bloodshed and a survivor's smile spread across my face. Unfortunately, the truck cut the next turn a little too short. I tried staying on the road, but the saucer flew straight for a signpost.

I was frantically groping for a nonexistent steering wheel when, through sheer dumb luck, the saucer sailed wide. I breathed a deep sigh of relief just about the time the rope hit the post. If you've ever watched a tetherball whirling around a pole, you can imagine how I felt—except the ball doesn't go flying into a snow bank when it hits the end of its rope.

My friends laughed as if they'd just seen the funniest thing ever. I picked myself up and limped stoically back to the truck. Coach Smith had taught us to "walk it off," even if we were carrying a severed limb. But I clearly remember that I didn't like being flung one little bit.

And that's why you'll never find a squirrel-flinging bird feeder at our house. Even though it was a long time ago, I can still imagine how the poor squirrel in that video must've felt. And I wonder if his buddies laughed at him, too.

Editor: Does this bring back any childhood memories? :))
